

Training – We are available to train in your community on a variety of topics related to primary prevention including:

- Basics of Primary Prevention
- Working with Men and Boys
- Engaging Communities in Primary Prevention
- Engaging Youth in Primary Prevention
- Policy Work and Organizational Practices
- Social Change Skills

If you have specific training needs, we can tailor our trainings to meet your needs.

Technical Assistance – We provide technical assistance to help you problem-solve when issues arise related to primary prevention. This can be done in person or via phone and e-mail.

- Are you running into barriers implementing primary prevention strategies or working with your community workgroup?
- Not sure how to best determine which direction is appropriate for your community?

We can offer technical assistance for a variety of prevention related issues.

Collaboration and Advocacy – We work at the state and national levels to help guide the direction of primary prevention initiatives and support those initiatives through policy changes and advocacy.

Examples of our efforts include:

- Serving on the state-level Primary Prevention Planning Committee
- Collaborating with the Texas Council on Family Violence
- Working closely with the Interpersonal Violence Prevention Collaborative

We advocate for crisis centers and to support the prevention work crisis centers and other agencies are doing at the local level.

Materials – We create materials related to primary prevention including:

- A Primary Prevention E-Newsletter with tips on community development, articles from across the country, and upcoming trainings.
- A guidebook on Engaging Communities in Sexual Violence Prevention
- Handouts and fact sheets on primary prevention, risk reduction, community development, community collaborations and more.

Most of these materials are available electronically or in hard copy.

For more information contact Morgan J Curtis, LMSW, Primary Prevention Coordinator, [mc Curtis@taasa.org](mailto:mc Curtis@taasa.org) or 512.474.7190 x13